TORRE DI CIVITA

RAVELLO, AMALFI COAST

Torre di Civita is a storied castellated estate perched high above the Amalfi Coast in Ravello, its crenellated tower rising from nearly six acres of terraced gardens and umbrella pines. Commanding sweeping views over the Gulf of Salerno and the mountains beyond, the villa promises utmost seclusion, just moments from the gardens of Villa Rufolo and the summer concerts of the Ravello Festival. Torre di Civita offers a rare portal into the timeless romance of Italian coastal living.

Interiors present a romantic marriage of Gothic Revival grandeur and Mediterranean charm, with pointed arched windows, antique furnishings and hand-painted Vietri ceramic floors in vivid Amalfi blue. Original artworks and antique majolica plates adorn the walls throughout, lending each room a collected, old-world elegance. The salon gathers around a carved stone fireplace, while a long dining table beside arched windows and a spiral staircase sets the scene for convivial feasts. Seven bedrooms accommodate fourteen guests in utmost comfort and discretion, each individually appointed with upholstered headboards, embroidered textiles and crystal chandeliers, many opening to sea views. One bedroom dazzles with a hand-painted mural of palms on deep indigo walls. Bathrooms showcase freestanding soaking tubs, majolica tiles and Gothic arched windows framing the coast. Walk-in closets add effortless convenience.

Torre di Civita comes to its fullest expression outdoors, where a pool shaded by towering umbrella pines is lined with sun loungers and a lantern-lit pavilion. A vine-draped pergola shelters al fresco dining beside an outdoor kitchen, while balustraded terraces offer breathtaking vistas over the coastline. Meandering paths lead through Mediterranean gardens of bougainvillea and bubbling fountains, revealing hidden corners to savor the view.
