CASA DE ALBA

CENTRO, CARTAGENA

Casa De Alba is an astounding Spanish colonial residence brimming with this historical intrigue, perched in the heart of Cartagena's old town. Benefitting from painstaking restorations, this aristocratic estate is renewed to its former prestige as a beacon of high culture refinement and astounding interior design.

The enchanting interiors brim with 16th-century Spanish Imperial elegance, with contemporary accents enhancing the estate's authentic spirit. Original arched brickwork and columns make up a magical internal courtyard entangled with lush foliage and drooping vines. The chic internal loggia posits a bold indoor-outdoor living philosophy transporting guests back to the port city's illustrious aristocratic past. Soaring heights, exposed beam ceilings, and delightful orange accent walls capture a quintessential Latin verve. Exceptionally ornate brass pieces, candelabras, and sconce lighting dazzle with an antique patina imbuing the cavernous spaces with a cinematic old-world aura. Each of the seven sumptuous bedrooms are serene worlds unto their own, replete with chic four-post beds and premium linens. There are two suites with private balconies overlooking the cathedral, two separate rooms, and three mezzanines, accommodating up to 30 guests in total. These ultra-private suites flaunt a seductively neutral palette with decor perfected in the art of bohemian minimalism. In-room minibars are a whimsical feature that is sure to please after a raucous evening out on the town.

A dreamy oasis amid the urban hubbub, Casa de Alba flaunts two magnificent pools placed between the ground floor and a fantastic rooftop terrace. Gorgeous outdoor facilities entail a commanding lounge area teeming with ultra-plush furnishings. From all-day recreation to lavish nocturnal affairs, this exemplary luxury colonial estate offers the ultimate portal into the vibrant soul of Cartagena.
