WILLOWOOD WASHINGTON

BOONSBORO, MARYLAND

Willowood Washington is an enchanting countryside retreat set amid the rolling landscapes of Boonsboro, Maryland, where historic American farmland unfolds across sweeping meadows, willow-lined paths, and gently undulating hills. Positioned within easy reach of Antietam's storied grounds and the Appalachian Trail, the estate enjoys a setting defined by pastoral calm, expansive skies, and a sense of seclusion that feels worlds away, yet remains just ninety minutes from Washington, D.C. Carefully restored stone structures anchor the property, blending naturally into the surrounding countryside and creating a serene backdrop for a full-estate experience rooted in heritage and refinement.

Interiors at Villa Willowood Washington reflect a thoughtful dialogue between past and present. The principal living spaces are gracious and light-filled, with exposed beams, original masonry, and tailored architectural details forming the foundation for luxurious living. Bespoke furnishings, curated artwork, and rich textures lend warmth and sophistication, while modern comforts are seamlessly integrated throughout. The kitchen continues this balance of tradition and contemporary design, appointed for both everyday ease and elevated entertaining, and conceived as a natural gathering point within the home. The residence is completed by five beautifully appointed bedrooms, each offering a private sanctuary with en-suite bathrooms and tranquil views across the surrounding landscape.

Outdoors, the estate reveals its full character. Manicured gardens, open lawns, and restored barns frame the property, inviting leisurely strolls, quiet reflection, or refined outdoor gatherings. Stone pathways weave through the grounds, connecting intimate corners with expansive vistas, while the scale of the estate ensures privacy at every turn. Villa Willowood Washington stands as a rare expression of restored rural elegance – an estate where history, craftsmanship, and understated luxury converge in perfect harmony.
