TOWNHOUSE ANASTASIA

TRIBECA, NEW YORK CITY

Townhouse Anastasia is an extraordinary residence perched in the heart of Tribeca in the immediate proximity of some of Manhattan's most prestigious fine dining and retail. This scintillating boutique development is the brainchild of designer Jordan Carlyle, his vision immaculately executed by Six Sigma. Boldy redefining residential luxury living, this Brash, stylish, and decadent residence embodies New York's insatiably tenacious spirit.

A master of impressions, this Townhouse is accessed through a private double-door foyer, a vast open concept living space enthralling guests with its stature. Presenting the pinnacle of high fashion refinement, exquisite furnishings blend imperceptibly even with the most brazen artwork. An oversized gorilla sculpture flanks a dazzling marble accent wall with built-in television and a sleek linear fireplace. Glorious Industrial-chic ring chandeliers drape from elegant double-height tray ceilings. Provocative installation art compliments the ultra-refined dining and breakfast area outfitted with the world's finest high-end finishes. The kitchen flaunts an island made from polished, book-matched Silverwave Marble with a waterfall edge, setting up an incredibly versatile entertaining venue. Comfortably secluded from the living area, the home's bedrooms are found up a glass-enclosed staircase with an LED-lit recessed handrail. Four sumptuous ensuite bedrooms with king-size beds present the pinnacle of comfort and discretion for eight discerning guests. The master is graced with a massive walk-in closet leading to the sublime en-suite bathroom, teeming with opulent stone finishes, and it's located on the second floor of the home, along with two more guest bedrooms. The fourth bedroom is located on the second-floor mezzanine, along with an additional staff bedroom.

The sub-level includes a large, temperature-controlled wine cellar, a private home theatre room, and a luxurious pool room ideal for entertaining or relaxing in solitude. Guests may personalize their experience fully with a state-of-the-art home automation system by Bang & Olufsen. This coveted Tribeca luxury rental is lauded as one of New York's finest urban properties. LVH requires owners to comply with regulations for all home rentals within New York City.
