VILLA NATALIE

WASHINGTON, LITCHFIELD

Villa Natalie is a masterful feat of engineering, its striking design a perfect marriage of form and functionality. The acclaimed Gray Organschi Architecture conceived this magnificent contemporary residence, claiming over seventy acres of terrain. Villa Natalie is a home in balance with its pastoral surroundings, taking inspiration from the property's gentle hills and sublime spring-fed pond.

The main house sited on one of the hills enjoys the pond view and beyond – an undoubted architectural tour de force constructed of granite, limestone, and Alaskan cedar. Cavernous interiors present a world of gorgeous stone and wood detailing, audacious dimensions grounded with earthy textures. A soaring two-story foyer features rustic stone and rounded edge walls in a bespoke seating area smattered with elegant early-century sofas. Artful and sophisticated the area abounds with velvet textures, and striking 1920s patterned textiles accented with gold and silver. Villa Natalie presents eight bedrooms, five in the primary residence and three in the guesthouse, assuring versatile lodging options for maximum comfort. The materials, craftsmanship, and fixtures are extraordinary, featuring arched birch slat ceilings, custom millwork, teak window frames, plaster walls, marble baths, sandstone floors, and a total of twelve fireplaces. Top-shelf amenities include an indoor pool, squash court, screening, and exercise room. The recreation doesn't stop there, with a Swedish Sauna and wine room helping guests refine the art of the good life.

Revel in the pastoral paradise of the outdoors, displaying meadows of indigenous plants, perennial gardens, trails, and stone walls. The grounds reveal a fifty-seat amphitheater folly with panoramic views. An additional outdoor tennis court with a viewing room presents an idyllic spot to brush up your serve.
